

MR. BRYAN NOTIFIED OF HIS SELECTION

TOLD OF HIS NOMINATION BY THE SILVER PARTY.

Democratic Candidate For President Enthusiastically Welcomed to His Nebraska Home—Latest Figures From Arkansas Show Still Further Gains—Campaign News.

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 9.—From the time Mr. Bryan reached this city at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning until the tired crowds retired from the streets at a late hour at night there was parading through the streets of the capital city by local and visiting campaign clubs, nearly all with brass bands in front. Mr. and Mrs. Bryan, George A. Groot, chairman of the notification committee, and Norris Humphrey of Lincoln rode together in the midst of the night parade. On the arrival of the torchlight procession the crowd gathered about the capitol was increased ten-fold. It seemed many times larger than the audience of 5,000 that listened to Mr. Bryan in the afternoon.

Norris Humphrey presided at the meeting and introduced George A. Groot of Ohio, chairman of the notification committee, who spoke in part as follows:

"The first national convention that ever declared in unequivocal language in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 was the convention of the people's party held in Omaha on July 4, 1894. From the adoption of that platform by that party to the present time the sentiment in favor of the free coinage of silver, without regard to the action of other nations, has grown with accelerated speed. The silver party in convention assembled adopted a platform which presents the issues involved in this campaign more clearly and definitely and cogently than any other platform that has been presented to the people.

"The national silver convention, with an unanimity unexampled in the history of national conventions in this country, nominated you as the candidate of the national silver party for the distinguished office of president of the United States. You are now the candidate for the great office of president of three great political parties, of which the silver party is not the least.

"The convention selected a committee to formally notify you of its action, and that committee conferred upon me the distinguished honor of advising you of your nomination as the candidate of the national silver party for the office of president of the United States. We are met, therefore, at this time and place for the purpose of performing the pleasant duty imposed upon us by the convention. I, therefore, in obedience to the wishes of the committee, and of the convention, hereby formally notify you that you have been nominated by the national silver party as its candidate for president, and request that you accept that nomination in the same spirit in which it has been tendered you."

It was 10:20 o'clock before Mr. Groot's long address was concluded. Mr. Bryan was immediately presented and made a short speech. He said in part:

"I beg to reply at this time without the formality of a letter. The platform adopted by the silver party contains but one plank, and that plank—the plank upon the silver question—is identical in substance with the silver plank of the Chicago platform. As I have already discussed that plank at length, it will not be necessary to enter into any extended discussion at this time. I beg to answer the committee that I accept the nomination tendered by them on behalf of the silver party in the spirit in which that nomination was presented.

"My friends, when I declared that I would not support a gold-standard candidate I was standing upon the record of the democratic party. I was defending its principles as well as the interests of the country at large. The republican platform of 1883 denounced the democratic administration for having attempted to degrade silver, and in 1891, on the 12th day of February, in Memorial hall at Toledo, Ohio, at the Lincoln day banquet, the present candidate for president upon the republican ticket used the words which I shall now read to you. I found these words published in a Toledo paper, and they have been published so long without correction that we may safely assume that he was correctly reported. These are the words which he is said to have used: 'During all of Grover Cleveland's years at the head of the government he was dishonoring one of our precious metals, one of our own great products, discrediting silver and enhancing the price of gold. He endeavored, even before his inauguration to office, to stop the coinage of silver dollars, and afterward and to the end of his administration persistently used his power to that end. He was determined to contract the circulating medium and demote one of the coins of commerce, limit the volume of money among the people, make money scarce and therefore dear. He would have increased the value of money and diminished the value of everything else, money the master, everything else the servant.'"

FIGURES GET LARGER.

Democratic Majority in Arkansas Nearly 65,000.

Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 9.—The democracy of Arkansas on Monday achieved the greatest victory in the history of the state. Never before was such an overwhelming majority given any gubernatorial candidate as that which was given Gen. Dan W. Jones, and never was such a large vote polled in the state. Conservative estimates, based on partial returns received, now place the total vote at 165,000, and give Jones a clear majority, over all opposition combined, of from 60,000 to 65,000. The figures are coming in slowly, and many enthusiastic democrats claim that when the back counties are all in Jones' majority will run above 70,000. Many counties in Arkansas have no telegraph offices, and it will be several days before the official returns are all in.

Effect Fusion in Missouri. St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 9.—The silver democratic state central committee, by nearly a unanimous vote, decided to fuse with the populists. A committee of three, with Chairman Sam Cook at its head, was authorized to make all necessary arrangements. It is probable that thirteen populist electors will be taken off the ticket and the democrats will be asked for the resignation of four to make room for the four populists.

Fusion in Texas. Fort Worth, Tex., Sept. 9.—The state republican convention determined to fuse with the populists and the national democrats in the state on the following basis: The republicans to cast their vote for the populist state ticket and on an electoral ticket composed of eight republicans, four populists and three national democrats, to be put in the field.

Gold Miner Gives $10,000.

New York, Sept. 9.—Treasurer St. John of the democratic committee reports a $10,000 contribution by a gold miner. Mr. St. John refused to give the donor's name.

BASEBALL REPORT.

Games Played in the National League, Yesterday.

Yesterday, a vacant day in the schedule, was used to clear up the few scattered games that remained to be played between the west and the east. The result is that the two sections are through with each other, save for a half-dozen postponed games, and will now battle for position among themselves. Scores of yesterday's games:

Silver Men Out in the Cold.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 9.—A report received from Laurel, Md., says that Deputy Surveyor of the Treasury E. P. Baldwin, who lives there, has been asked to resign on account of the prominent part he is taking in the advocacy of free silver. It is said that Hilary E. Bell of Illinois, deputy commissioner of pensions, has been requested to step down and out for the same reason.

Topeka, Kas., Sept. 9.—It is said that George W. Glick will be removed from the position of United States pension agent on account of his part in the free-silver movement. The man mentioned as his probable successor is F. B. Burgess of Missouri, a personal friend of D. R. Francis, secretary of the interior.

Urges Populists to Revolt.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 9.—There comes from the populists west of the Mississippi river a call to the populists of this state, and of all of the states, it is said, to join a revolt against the Bryan and Sewall ticket. The Reform Press association, which has its headquarters in Omaha, Neb., is at the head of the movement. Paul Vandervoort, president of this association, is taking the lead in the demand that Arthur Sewall be taken off the democratic ticket and Thomas Watson substituted. The threat is made that unless Sewall is removed the command will go out for the populists everywhere to withhold support from the democratic tickets—national, state, congressional and legislative.

Ontonagon in Need of Supplies.

Lansing, Mich., Sept. 9.—In a communication to Governor Rich. W. F. Sawyer, chairman of the Ontonagon relief committee, says that according to the present outlook tentroom will not be needed for over 300 people, although the committee is taking care of, in barracks and sheds, about 1,600 people. The supplies are running very short. The cash contributions to date amount to about $3,000. It seems that it will be necessary to take care of at least 800 people for the next ninety days. The amount of supplies on hand at present will only last one week.

MR. MCKINLEY SPEAKS TO OHIO EDITORS

MAJOR MAKES AN ADDRESS AT CANTON.

Ohio Republican Editorial Association Pays Him a Visit—Gen. Palmer Writing His Letter of Acceptance—Senator Carter Comes Out For Republicanism—Other Notes.

Canton, O., Sept. 9. The Ohio Republican Editorial association assembled in Elks' hall at 10:30 Tuesday morning. A paper on the financial question was read by H. R. Boyden of the Cincinnati Commercial-Tribune. The feature of the afternoon session was an address by Charles Emory Smith, editor of the Philadelphia Press and ex-minister to Russia. After Mr. Smith's address the editors marched in a body to the McKinley home. John Hopley of the Bucyrus Journal was spokesman for the editors. Maj. McKinley paid a high tribute to the spokesman and warmly welcomed the editors to Canton. A letter of regret from Whitelaw Reid to Col. R. B. Brown, president of the Ohio Republican Editorial association, was also read.

LETTER WILL BE SHORT.

All Preparations Made for Gen. Palmer's Official Notification.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 9.—Senator Palmer's letter of acceptance, which he will read in the Auditorium in Louisville next Saturday night, will in all likelihood be the shortest document of its kind that a presidential candidate ever prepared. Senator Palmer has decided to write a letter that can be read in at least thirty minutes. If possible he will condense it so that its reading will not occupy more than twenty minutes. After ascertaining Senator Palmer's views about the notification meeting the managers of the proceedings at Louisville arranged a program which limits the speeches of Senator Caffery of Louisiana, who will notify General Palmer, and Colonel Fellows of New York, who will notify General Buckner, to forty-five minutes, or an hour each, and Senator Palmer and General Buckner to about half an hour each. In this way it is purposed to conclude the meeting as early as 10:30 o'clock Saturday night.

Says Manning Was for Gold.

New York, Sept. 9.—Joseph C. Hendrix, president of the National Union bank, referred to the secretary of the treasury some western correspondence containing the statement that Daniel Manning, when secretary of the treasury, stopped the run on the gold reserve by threatening to pay all demands made by greenback holders in silver. Secretary Carlisle sent a letter in reply denying the statement, and asserting that Manning was an uncompromising gold man.

Senator Carter's Position.

Helena, Mont., Sept. 9.—Senator Carter has sent a letter to the republican state convention defining his position. He reaffirms his belief in the free coinage of silver, but declares in favor of McKinley and Hobart. The platform adopted at the Chicago convention, he declares, is too big a burden for free silver to carry.

Will Vote for McKinley.

New York, Sept. 9.—It is claimed that Abram S. Hewitt and other gold democrats are going to vote for McKinley, irrespective of the claims of Palmer and Buckner for their support. Some of them are Bourke Cockran, W. C. Whitney, Charles R. Fairchild, ex-Gov. Flower and Perry Belmont.

SONS OF VETERANS MEET.

Thousands of Visitors Attend the Gathering at Louisville, Ky.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 9.—Visitors and accredited delegates to the Sons of Veterans encampment have been pouring into the city, and it is estimated that between 9,000 and 10,000 are present.

To-day the parade, the chief event of the encampment, takes place. The principal contests to come before the body will be in the selection of the next place of meeting and the election of a new commander-in-chief. Denver and Boston are the only cities prominently bidding for the encampment, and the chances are greatly in favor of Boston. In the fight for commander-in-chief James I. Rake of Pennsylvania is a strong favorite, and the fight will be between him and Colonel Overdoff of New York.

When about five miles north of this city the horses took fright at some object in the road. They backed the rear wheels of the tally-ho over an embankment and the people, horses and vehicle were rolled down a hillside in a mangled and bloody mass. Six persons were killed. Their names are:

Aurora, Ill., Sept. 9.—The forty-third annual session of the Illinois Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Good Templars was called to order in the Aurora Opera House hall at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning by Grand Chief Templar Uriah Capp of Loda, Ill., who has presided over the Grand Lodge for twenty-five years. An unusually large representation was present and after the opening ceremonies the Grand Lodge degree was conferred upon 132 delegates. Grand Secretary R. J. Hazlett of Rockford stated that 282 lodges were in the state at the time of the last national report. Ninety new lodges had been organized during the year and seventeen reorganized ninety-five had forfeited their charters, and six surrendered their charters, making a net gain of six lodges. The order contained 9,840 members in good standing. The secretary of the Juvenile Temple reported thirty-seven lodges with a membership of 1,885.

Gen. Black Will Decide Today.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—Gen. John C. Black decided yesterday to sleep over the matter of accepting the anti-silver democratic nomination for governor. He gave a most diplomatic reception to the committees which were sent to him by the anti-silver democratic state committee, which was in session at the Palmer house. He listened to the appeals for a favorable decision with a smile, but not a word did he say that would indicate to the members of the teasing committee whether he would accept or refuse. He told the committee that he would make known his decision to-day.

Worcester, Mass., Sept. 9.—The field, line, and staff officers of the Loyal Legion, the uniformed rank of the United Order of American Mechanics, elected H. P. Fox of Hartford, Conn., major-general and commander-in-chief of the Loyal Legion of the country. The national council of the American Mechanics meets here to-day in annual session, which will probably last three days. About seventy members of the national council have already arrived in the city.

"The headquarters will be in Omaha," said he, "and Adj.-Gen. Burmeister will be in charge of them. I shall probably be away a considerable portion of the time visiting the various departments. It is probable that the matter will now go over until next year.

THE ALASKAN BOUNDARY.

Gold Mines Operated by Americans Thrown Into British Territory.

Washington, Sept. 9.—There is strong probability unless more haste is exercised by the state department in beginning an actual settlement of the Alaskan boundary question that serious complications may result between the United States and Great Britain.

The action of the Canadian surveyors last week in so locating the 141st meridian as to throw 200 gold mines, including the richest placer mines of Alaska, contained in a strip from three to eight miles wide into Canadian territory is likely at any time to precipitate such a conflict of authority as cannot be ignored by the home governments.

These mines are operated by Americans, and they will not readily submit to the stricter rules and regulations prescribed by the mounted police, who will now attempt to take charge of the disputed territory on the strength of the report made by Surveyor Ogilvie that the land is on the Canadian side.

TO REMEDY DEFECTS.

Second Day's Session of the British Labor Congress.

Edinburgh, Sept. 9.—The second day's session of the Trades Union congress opened Tuesday with a full attendance of delegates. Henry Mallinson, the new chairman of the parliamentary committee, delivered the inaugural address, in which he said the change in the manner in which committee now dealt with labor questions was largely due to the socialists, who had aroused the national conscience by exposing the misery and degradation arising from defects in the industrial system, and awakening the sense of the working classes to existing arrangements which gave them the most labor and least wealth. The social millennium, he believed, would be partly realized only in proportion as more just feelings pervaded all classes. The congress discussed the report of the parliamentary committee submitted yesterday, which censured the government for neglecting to pass any measures in the interest of labor and for preventing private members of parliament from promoting such measures.

Councilor W. Thorne, a member of the parliamentary committee and a delegate of the Gas Workers' union, moved and the congress adopted a resolution declaring for the limitation of the work day to eight hours in all trades and occupations.

E. Harford, a delegate of the Amalgamated Railway Servants, moved a resolution calling for an amendment of the employers' liability act, particularly in regard to the responsibility of sub-contractors; for the extension of the period of notice, and the removal of the maximum limit of compensation. Orion Sutherland Covers One Hundred Miles Under Adverse Circumstances.

Ex-Alderman Orion Sutherland has again caught the "century run fever" and yesterday he rode to Oconomowoc and return making one of the hardest runs that he has yet undertaken. Mr. Sutherland left the city yesterday at 1 o'clock and reached Oconomowoc, a distance of fifty miles, in three and one-half hours, the entire trip being made with the wind in his favor and blowing a gale. At 5 o'clock he left Oconomowoc. At Whitewater he was greeted by a storm that resembled a flood, and the roads were deep in mud. Walking was better than wheeling, so he walked nearly the entire distance, and pushed the wheel. He arrived home an hour and a half ahead of time, making his century in spite of the roads and rain.

RAKE TIME THROUGH HER FOOT

Miss Jennie Gardner Meets With a Very Painful Accident

Jennie Gardner, the little eight year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Gardner, of 13 Milton avenue, playfully jumped from a table and landed on the sharp tines of a rake, running the points clear through her foot so that they protruded through the flesh on the upper side. Her screams soon brought assistance and the rake was removed. The young lady will be confined to the house for some time, Dr. James Mills says.

Points About Children's Shoes.

One of the hardest things about clothing the children is their shoes. It seems to the mother that some one of the children must have a new pair of shoes most of the time and to the father that he is paying out money all the time. The youngster wears out the sole, punches a hole or tears the seam of the shoes in some manner continually and you parents are looking for a stronger shoe each time you buy. We have handled children's shoes largely for many years and have at all times looked for the strongest and best makes on the market until we believe we have at present the best line, all points considered, we ever sold. Our shoes have always given good satisfaction and our stock this fall is a banner one. A Richardson Shoe Co.

REMEMBER we sell all the trimming necessary to go with the new dress. Bert, Bailey & Co.

FILLED CHEESE LAW OPERATIVE

Collector Murphy Says No Such Cheese Is Made in Wisconsin.

The law regulating the manufacture and sale of filled cheese, went into effect today, and from this time on, manufacturers will have to properly label the article. Retailers will also have to post conspicuous notice of the fact that the filled cheese is not the pure, wholesome product. Every package must bear the stamp of the internal revenue department, and Collector Murphy, of Milwaukee, has received an assortment. He has no use for them, however, as there is no filled cheese manufactured in Wisconsin, he says.

"Boys will be boys," but you can't afford to lose any of them. Be ready for the green apple season by having DeWitt's Colic and Cholera Cure in the house. C. D. Stevens.

THE OVERFLOW OF LOCAL NEWS.

WALTER AIRIS' STORE IS CLOSED.

The former Jarvisville Man Falls at Rockford, Ill.

The Rockford Register-Gazette gives the following account of the failure of Walter Airis at that city.

"I'd rather it would have been almost any one else I know of than Walter Airis," was the remark of a business man as he looked upon the drawn curtains of the handsome shoe store on the corner of State and Wyman. There were many others who felt the same as they heard of the financial pressure which had led Mr. Airis to give up the struggle.

"About 10 o'clock this morning there was filed in the office of the circuit clerk a cognovit for the sum of $13,404 in favor of Alexander Richardson of Janesville, Wis., against Walter A. Airis.

"Some accounts due outside creditors have been pushing Mr. Airis of late. Business was very good, but these firms needed the money and must have it at once. Pressed for the cash at once Mr. Airis was unable to meet the demand, and sending for Mr. Richardson, the Janesville manufacturer who has been his backer, after consultation with him, he decided that it was best to put the stock in the sheriff's hands. Every creditor will be paid in full when the business is wound up. The sheriff's sale will take place in about ten days.

"Some years ago Mr. Airis came to the city and started in the shoe business on West State street. He had a small capital of his own, but was backed by Mr. Richardson. By his industry, business ability and capacity for making friends, he succeeded in working up a large business in a poor location. In fact it so increased as to render necessary his removal to his present stand, where he fitted up one of the finest stores in northern Illinois.

"Not only his business but the number of his friends increased rapidly also, until it is safe to say that no young man in the city can number as many strong friends as he. Prosperity will yet be his in future days, for Mr. Airis is a man of high business ability, and has the confidence of the public in a marked degree.

"Regret will be universal that the hard times should have numbered him in the list of victims. No one will lose a dollar by the failure aside from Mr. Airis himself."

GENERAL DOE AND FREE SILVER.

A Letter Written to a Fort Atkinson Lady of Free Silver.

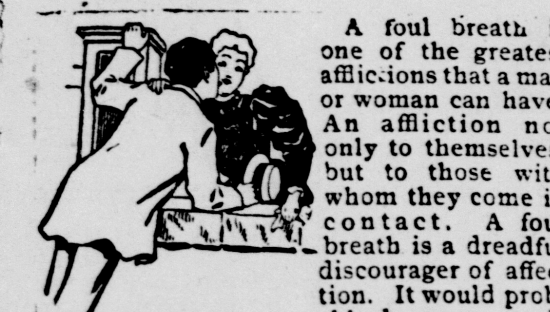

The Jefferson County Banner, published at Fort Atkinson, has the following:

"In answer to an inquiry from Mrs. W. Y. Wentworth, of this city, as to how he liked the free silver question, Assistant Secretary of War Doe writes as follows in reply:

"I do not like it at all. I think that this placing our country upon a silver standard, which would be the practical and necessary result of the free coinage of silver, would cause the greatest financial disaster and bring upon us a series of commercial failures, strikes and riots, unparalleled in the history of the country. Any financial step which results in reducing the purchasing power of wages, must be disastrous in the way I have indicated, and the free silver advocates concede that the first effect of free coinage would be to increase the prices of the necessities of life, while experience shows that wages would be the last to rise. A depreciated currency would also reduce the value of every trust fund, pension, life insurance policy, or bank deposit, and it is a wild flight of the imagination to conceive that the free coinage of silver would increase its commercial value to an equality with gold. I do not believe, however, that the election of Bryan would necessarily bring about free coinage and its attendant disasters. The effect of possible free coinage can readily be seen in the business world, and may the Lord help the farmers who have notes and mortgages becoming due within the next six months."

A foul breath is one of the greatest afflictions that a man or woman can have. An affection not only to themselves, but to those with whom they come in contact. A foul breath is a dreadful discourager of affection. It would probably be more so if people only realized just what bad breath means. Bad breath is one of the symptoms of constipation. Some of the other symptoms are sour stomach, loss of appetite, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, heart-burn and distress after eating. These things mean indigestion. They lead to dyspepsia and worse things. They all start with constipation, and constipation is inexcusable because it can be cured—cured easily, quickly and permanently, by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They give to nature just the little help that she needs. There is no case of biliousness, constipation, indigestion, "heart-burn," or any of the rest of the night-mare breeding brood, that these little "Pellets" will not cure. Sold by all medicine dealers.

AGENTS CANNOT COLLECT FEES

Judge Webb Renders a Decision of Importance to the Humane Society.

Judge Charles M. Webb of the Seventh circuit has rendered a decision of great importance, with reference to the Wisconsin Humane society and its agents. The point in question was the liability of the state or county for the payment of fees to the Humane society. Dr. W. R. Claussen of Waukegan was appointed an agent of the society and at a meeting of the county board in 1895 he presented bills for his work, claiming the regular officer's fees for work actually done. The board refused to pay the bills, and he took an appeal to the circuit court.

Judge Webb holds that Dr. Claussen is not entitled to recover, because he was an officer of the Wisconsin Humane society, a corporation whose headquarters are at Milwaukee, and not an officer of the people, elected by or appointed with the consent of the people. He holds that even the carrying out of the orders of the county court, in taking children who had been committed to state institutions, does not entitle the agent to recover the fees for so doing from the county. He says that the statute makes the duties of an agent of the Humane society to aid the officers of the law in taking care of that class of cases, but does not make him an officer of the law. The action of the county board in refusing to pay the bills, is sustained.

It is believed that this is the first decision upon this point ever made in the state, and will have a far-reaching effect upon the Humane agents all over the state.

More Dress Goods

The wonderful sale of dress goods we started Monday morning is taking so well we have decided to run it along through Wednesday and Thursday. We are showing hundreds of pieces at from 25 cents to $2 a yard each and every one a distinct and separate pattern. One need not spend an exceedingly great amount of money for a handsome fall dress, for instance the line of 25 cent goods includes a hundred pieces in widths of 36 to 42 inches, the most beautiful designs and colorings, all wool, and really worth fifty cents a yard. Of course the higher priced articles show for themselves, and to those whom the greater money does not pull so heavily, one can get the prettiest kind of a dress. If you can't buy at present, come in anyway, and form an idea from the stock of stocks, as to the dress you will have later. Fort, Bailey & Co.

THEY DON'T JIBE.

Why doesn't somebody inject a little consistency into the free silver campaign. Mr. Bryan claims that when silver gets into the mints without limit it will advance to $1.29 an ounce. He also claims with a persistent assertion, against which neither fact nor argument avails an iota, that free coinage will increase the circulating medium and insure an actual and permanent prosperity. Each one of these claims has been successfully refuted. It has been shown, time and again, that the heavy production of silver, together with the amount in existence and not including the silver dollars now issued, would represent a supply in excess of any possible demand as represented by the capacity of the mints to coin bullion. This enforced lack of demand would lessen the price of bullion since the market would not be available save only for a fixed amount, and the owners would be obliged to accept such figures as are obtainable under the rules governing all merchandise markets—the inevitable law of supply and demand.

This circumstance alone, would tend to limit the circulation, apart from other theories that have been presented in support of an increase, and then shown to be false. The two claims, in point of fact, are irreconcilable. If, by some hitherto unknown theory of alchemy and economics, silver should reach the $1.29 mark and become the equivalent of gold in accordance with a fixed ratio, it would have an equal relative quality with gold, and be worth as much in bullion as in coin. But the mints can coin only a certain amount each month, or, as estimated, $6,000,000, with the result that the bullion value would fall below the mint value, that silver could not remain at a parity with gold and that an increase in circulation could not be attained until the increase in silver had compensated for the loss of gold. As this loss would amount to $600,000,000 it is easy to figure out how long it would take to restore the circulation we have now.

It would be possible, of course, to compel the government to buy silver bullion and to issue against it certificates of deposit, these in turn to serve as a circulating medium for what they were worth. But with the present amount of bullion in the treasury acting as a drag on the market, how can increased purchase and storage in the vaults to an unlimited extent serve as a factor toward higher value when they have always had the exactly opposite effect? Over production always lessens values. Too much wheat produces too little money, as an illustration, and such would be the case with the silver, even after the government had been constituted a free-for-all buyer. Paper money based on silver alone would therefore have no higher value or purchasing power than the bullion itself; and as bullion would seek its natural level, its power as an agent of purchase would be limited by its price, or by little more if any than it is today. This would mean a practical lessening in the volume of currency and lead to such a distrust of silver as money that it would practically become a drug on the market. In short, silver advocates are hurting its cause by their present campaign methods. If they are so certain, or the business world is so well assured, that free coinage means $1.29 an ounce and more money for the multitude, why is it that the price refuses to advance from its present stand of about 67 cents? Eighty per cent. profit should be sufficient even for a mine owner.

PRICES FOR ROCK COUNTY.

"Twenty-three years of constantly falling prices have resulted from the striking down of silver," says Senator Teller. He knows this is untrue, and every Rock county farmer who keeps a record of his sales, knows it to be untrue. He knows that corn, wheat, rye, buckwheat, bacon, hams, lard, pork, beef, butter, cheese, potatoes, eggs, tobacco and many other farm products have been higher since 1873 than they were in that year—that some of them went "constantly" upward instead of downward several years after 1873.

Some significant figures were quoted to day by a La Prairie farmer, who took a farm of his own in 1878. His books show that in the fall of that year he sold produce as follows:

Corn.....34
 Oats.....18
 Rye.....43
 Hogs.....$3.20
 Wheat......82

This was five years after the "crime of 1873" had been committed. In 1891 the "crime" had been burdening the people for thirteen years longer. Prices ought to have been lower in proportion, according to Senator Teller's theory, but the La Prairie man's books show sales at these figures:

Corn.....53 cents
 Oats.....29 cents
 Rye.....83 cents
 Hogs.....$4.50 to $5
 Wheat.....96 cents

It is facts such as these—facts that are found in their own account books—that make Rock county farmers blame the crime of 1892 rather than the crime of 1873 for much of the hard times.

IN JANESVILLE SWITCH YARDS.
 The C. M. & St. P. paid out for labor during the last twelve months $12,460,923.03 and for supplies $5,820,736.58.

A share of the money paid for labor came to Janesville, and every month there comes another installment. Nowhere in the Janesville yards, it is safe to say, can a man be found who wants his wages paid in 53 cent dollars hereafter, instead of in 100 cent dollars. Then why should they vote for Mr. Bryan, whose main argument is that the dollars paid to conductors and brakemen and switch tenders by railroad companies today are about double the proper value?

Mr. Bryan would look a long time in Janesville before he found an intelligent railroad man endorsing free silver. The same thing seems to be true of every other city in the country. Railroad men are slow to believe that wages will be doubled to make up for the introduction of 53 cent dollars. They know what slow work advancing wages has always been. They prefer to let things rest on the present basis and vote to open the mills rather than the mints.

Mr. Bryan told one audience that he endorsed every syllable of the democratic platform and declared to another that from preamble to peroration the populist manifesto voiced his sentiments. The man in pink tights who rides six bare back horses at once is a clumsy novice compared to the youthful straddler from the Platte.

There was talk last night about one candidate or the other packing the senatorial caucuses with democrats. It must have been a joke. There were not democrats enough at any of the regular democratic caucuses, to even make a ward committee.

When Governor Altgeld has "answered" Carl Schurz, and that eminent young logician, Mr. Bryan, has crushed General Harrison and Bourke Cockran into an unrecognizable mass, this campaign will be a good deal merrier.

JEWS CELEBRATE THE NEW YEAR.

Holiday Was Observed by the Local Believers in That Faith.

Janesville Jews celebrated Rosh-hannah, or the Jewish New Year, by closing their stores yesterday. The event marked the year 5657 on the Jewish calendar, which is a lunar instead of a solar reckoning. For this reason every Jewish festival season begins at sundown instead of at mid night.

During the celebration attendant on the advent of New Year's there will be two events of special significance. Besides the services held for the new year, there will be the atonement, which will be celebrated ten days hence, followed by the feast of booths, known in the Christian calendar as the feast of the tabernacles. This in the Jewish calendar is Yom Kippur. Its observance will close the New Year observations.

A feature of church services was the blowing of a trumpet, the ceremony being known as Shofar. Its purpose is to remind the people of the existence of God, and of his occupancy of a throne before, which they must be judged.

UNION MEN DID NOT HEAR HIS SPEECH

CURBSTONE SILVER ORATOR'S AUDIENCE MISSING.

Representative of a Montana Labor Union was to have spoken at Central Labor Hall last night, but the meeting was postponed for lack of listeners.

The members of the Janesville Labor Union do not seem to be anxious to hear a disciple of free silver, from "silver-or-bust Montana."

A "curbstone orator"—B. M. Lindsay, of Butte—is in town.

The Silver Bow Trades and Labor Assembly, of Butte, sent him here. Thus Janesville gains, in a measure, from the free silver agitation—Mr. Lindsay pays his board, so that much more money is put in circulation in this city—ten dollars a week perhaps. "I am to address the Labor Union at Central Labor Hall tonight," he said to a Gazette reporter yesterday.

But he didn't.

Lindsay was at Central Labor Hall, and had his talk with him.

But he had no audience.

The union men were all attending the caucuses and judging from the size of the attendance at the republican and democratic gatherings last night, most of them must have been at the republican caucuses. There were not one hundred men at all the democratic caucuses combined, while the attendance at the republican meetings aggregated nearly a thousand people. Therefore, the union men must have attended the republican caucuses.

The time came for Lindsay to speak but only half a dozen men were on hand to hear him and the meeting was postponed.

Do "Plutocrats" Pay His Way?

Mr. Lindsay is "sent out" by a Butte labor union, which means that either the labor unions, or the silver miners, or some one else, is paying his expenses, and doubtless giving him a salary as well. He is a stationary engineer by trade, and belongs to the National Association of Stationary Engineers—an order which he admits "is composed mostly of republicans."

There is evidently "something in the silver agitation for the silver miners, and those dependent upon them. Otherwise they couldn't afford to send Mr. Lindsay to Janesville, at considerable expense, to do "curbstone work." Mine owners, and mining corporations do not spend their money for charitable purposes, any more than do the "plutocrats" and men of the "money power" that Mr. Lindsay and the other plutocrats are howling about.

Janesville workingmen did not take kindly to Mr. Lindsay's theories last night, but up to the hours of going to press no one had quoted Mr. Lindsay as claiming that his present duties were more arduous, or more unpleasant, than running a stationary engine at Butte, Montana—for, perhaps, the "plutocrat" who owns a silver mine, and does an extensive business, perhaps, on "Wall street" together with other "money kings."

Gold Will Win in Kansas

Bryan will not carry Kansas, and that state will be in line for honest money this fall. So says a man who came from that state today to attend Vanentine's School of Telegraphy. As many students at that school come from the west, and a large proportion of them are bright, intelligent farmer boys, A. M. Valentine has been keeping track of the sentiment in the west, by getting their views. For a time, nearly all the students who came from the so-called "silver states," reported that Bryan would win in that section. It is said that many farmers are free silver men, so that the representatives of the farming class who come here, know whereof they speak. When the Kansas student arrived today Mr. Valentine asked him what the sentiment in his part of the state was.

"Up to last July" he replied. "Many farmers were talking about Bryan and free silver. Now the sentiment is dying out. Mr. Bryan will not carry Kansas this fall."

Thus it goes. The free silver arguments, which, as Hon. T. P. Keato, says, have been circulated systematically for four years, do not stand the test when the readers of the sixteen-cent literature get the facts offered by the "other side." Farmers all over the country are finding that "Coin's Financial School" and other similar publications, are but smoothly worded frauds, intended to mislead the reader, because they are made up of gibberish and plausible—but untrue and exaggerated—statements.

DEMOCRATS FUSE WITH POPULISTS

ROCK COUNTY "UNTERRIFIED" MUCH MIXED.

W. P. Malone Named For Sheriff and Frank R. Morris Succeeded as County Chairman by John Riordan of Beloit—Candidates Must Take Their Pay in Silver.

Sheriff. W. P. Malone, Janesville Clerk of Court. A. W. Dibble, Evansville County Treasurer. C. H. Storck, Avon County Clerk. C. A. Hoen, Edgerton Register of Deeds. Henry Bentz, Milton District Attorney. Wilson Lane, Janesville County Surveyor. C. V. Kerch, Janesville Coroner. James Cleland, Janesville Co. Supt. 1st Dis. Geo. Frusher, Porter Co. Supt. 2d Dis. Dora Haviland, Janesville.

Rock county democrats nominated, orated and fused with populists this afternoon.

F. R. Morris called the convention to order just as if his job as county chairman wasn't slipping out of reach. William Smith was made chairman of the meeting.

After the convention had been organized, the matter of selecting a sheriff was called up. C. C. MacLean nominated W. P. Malone, of Janesville.

Delegate Miller said that before the convention named a ticket there should be consideration of the fusion proposition. He favored fusing with any party that could bring votes. If fusion was impossible he was willing to endorse the prohibition ticket or anything else. He moved that nobody be eligible for nomination who would not agree to take their pay in silver.

C. C. McLean, C. Palmer and John Harvey were made a committee to confer with the populist committee as to fusion. They reported that the populists wanted C. H. Storck, of Avon, nominated for county treasurer; Miss Dora Haviland, for superintendent of schools, in the second district, and James Cleland, for coroner. The report of the conference committee was adapted after a bitter protest from W. P. Bentley and other old time democrats who thought populists were having too much to say.

New assembly committees were named as follows:

First District—J. E. Connors, James Scott, A. D. Maxfield.

Second District—D. E. Thorp, Thomas Ellingson, Arthur Broughton.

Third District—Cornelius Buckley, Lathers, Kelly.

The county ticket listed above was railroaded through by acclamation, except for a ballot on register of deeds. Louis N. Spencer of Magnolia, and Henry Bentz of Milton, were named for this office. The claim was made by Chairman Morris that Bentz was a republican, but fusion seemed to be the order of the day as no serious objection was made.

Andrew Jensen started a hot debate by offering a resolution that "in future county conventions the basis of representation be one delegate to each fifty democratic votes at the preceding general election." The apportionment heretofore has been four from each town and ward; and towns where democrats are scarce have had more than their share of power. The Jensen resolution would cut the representation in the county from 140 to 111, democratic wards in Janesville and Beloit gaining heavily. The resolution was tabled with a howl.

It was announced that John Riordan, of Beloit, had been named as chairman of the county committee to succeed F. R. Morris. There were rumors of an effort by the Morris faction to declare the committee's action void, but nothing was done, and at 3:45 the convention adjourned.

JOHN FISHER CAUGHT THE TEAM

Leaped to the Back of One of His Flying Colts.

Frightened horses caused all sorts of excitement on Milwaukee street, this morning about 11 o'clock. John Fisher, who resides near this city, drove to town with a pair of colts, and stopped in front of Secretary D. W. Watt's office. While Fisher was talking with F. L. Smith, along came a street car and away went the colts. Fisher ran out, and with a leap that would have done credit to one of Buffalo Bill's "rough riders," he sprang upon the back of one of the animals, bringing the team to a stop in front of Bennett & Cram's.

A street car ran into Tarrant & Osgood's delivery outfit, just before the Fisher runaway, crowding the horse. The beast became tangled up with the George Searchiff delivery wagon, which was passing, and the grocery wagon was somewhat damaged, and the horse bruised.

COST OF THE PLANT IS NOW SETTLED

DIFFERENCE OF $6,003 FOUND BY THE EXPERTS.

This Sum is Mostly Made Up of Charges Held For Further Consideration—Water Company's Statement Was Correct In Other Respects—Council to Hear Reports.

The reports of Civil Engineer Edward Ruger and Accountant J. C. Card in regard to the cost of the water works plant, will be submitted to the council at the adjourned meeting to be held this evening. They will report the actual construction cost of the works to be $178,530.44, while the water company's statement made late in February, 1892, placed the cost at $184,534.35.

Thus, a difference of $6,003 will be reported as the result of their labors.

The sum is mostly made up of sundry accounts held in abeyance for further consideration. The largest of these items is one of $2,000—a claim against the Wisconsin Construction Company—the payment of which is not recorded.

The figures are for construction expense solely, the charge for fuel, for instance, being the cost of coal used for melting lead, etc., in the course of building the system. The recapitulations of both the water company's statement and the reports of the experts are as follows:

The Thorn.

When two soft arms encircle
In affectionate embrace
A fellow's neck and two brown eyes
Look up into his face
With glances full of meaning,
And the touch of two wee hands
Smooth out dull care's furrows,
It's then Dan Cupid's bands
Are spliced into his heartstrings
And he thanks his lucky star
That she'd vouchsafed such happiness
That naught on earth can mar.
But, ah, the sad reaction,
And bitter thoughts set free,
When the seaskin squire's delivered
With a bill stamped "C. O. D."
—Somerville Journal.

It Was Reminiscent.

They stood on the beach and watched
The ripples break on the pebbly strand.
The wind whirled the loose strands of hair about her pretty eyes.
"Mabel," he said, in his deep, manly profundo, "will you think of me when you recall this charming scene?"
"Why, George," she gravely answered,
"there is but one thing here to remind me of you."
"And what is that, Mabel?"
"The breeze, George—it's so fresh!"—
Cleveland Plain Dealer.

An English Joke.

Husband—What! You want more money! Why, only yesterday I gave you five pounds.
Wife—Yes, but I spent that on a new bonnet.
H.—But I gave it to you for food; you can't feed yourself with a new bonnet.
W.—I can feed part of myself with it.
H.—Whatever do you mean, woman?
W.—Why, I can feast my eyes on it.—
London Fun.

Prohibited.

A western hotel-keeper has added the following to the usual rules and regulations found in hotel rooms:
"No murdering or suicing allowed in this room. Guests breaking this rule will be requested to leave. All dying strictly forbidden on these premises."—
N. Y. World.

Her Sex Unreasoning.

"There's no use talking," began Mrs.
Gobang.
"I know it," interrupted Gobang,
"and the fact that you persist in talking after making that declaration simply proves what I have often asserted, regarding the lack of logic in the female sex. Now proceed with your lecture."
—Truth.

Auntie Had Done Her Best.

Susie—And so you are an old maid,
auntie; a real old maid?
Aunt Ethel—Yes, Susie, dear; I am a real old maid.
Susie (wishing to be nice and comforting)—Well, never mind, poor, dear auntie, I am sure it isn't your fault.—
Tit-Bits.

His Progress.

He is one of the men who refuse to become enthusiastic over the bicycle.
"Have you learned to brake your wheel with your foot yet?" asked his friend.
"No," was the reply. "I haven't gotten any further than learning to break
my foot with my wheel."—Washington Star.

Compensation in All Things.

"There is one thing that I must say for Blowhard, and that dangnation trombone of his."
"What's that?"
"He has driven all the cats into another neighborhood to do their serenading."—Detroit Free Press.

The Optimist.

I'm as happy as a lark in May.
What is it makes me so?
I've asked my love to be my wife
And she has answered "no."
Then why should I be jubilant?
"Methinks I hear you say."
Still I'm as happy as a lark
That sings its song in May.
For when a maiden says she won't
You know she means she will.
Therefore, though I have been refused,
She is my darling still.

THE PRIZE NOISE.

Seven Boys Can Make More Than a Cyclone.

"The worst sound I ever heard," said the man in the corner, according to the Detroit Free Press, "was the cry of a screech owl in the woods of Maine. I was only a boy at the time and it was years before I could sleep a night through without dreaming of that awful scream."

"My experience is that there is nothing on the face of the earth can make a worse noise than the cry of a peewee," said an old hunter belonging to the crowd.

"Gentlemen," said the only Detroit present, "I once lived across the street from two parrots, and I give you my word of honor that they made more noise of an ear-splitting, heart-rending description than any other critters under the sun."

"I ain't thinking of live objects," said the man who had been reading, "but if it comes to an ear-splitter I call the game on a callopie! The first time I heard it it knocked me clean foolish."

"Then you've never been in a tornado and heard the noise of all noises?" said a western man with an air of pride.

"Tornadoes, cyclones and earthquakes don't count in my experience. I was visiting a family where there were twelve children," said the solemn-looking chap, speaking for the first time; "there were seven boys and five girls and in the morning when I was getting my best sleep there came a racket that made me think of the end of the world. It was those seven boys racing down the attic stairs in their thick-soled boots and it may have been sweet music in their parents' ears but it nearly gave me nervous fever! To tell the truth, I haven't quite recovered from it yet."

Measuring Starlight.

An English astronomer, Minchin, has invented an instrument which accurately measures the quantity of light given out by a star. Stars are designated as being of the first down to the twentieth magnitude, according to the intensity of the light given out. The magnitude of a star is judged by the eye. Anything like exactitude is not obtainable or has not been up to the present.

By the new invention, instead of the rough designation of magnitude, numbers are given which represent the exact ratio one star bears to another in light-giving powers. The star Arcturus, for example, has been found to give seventy-five and three-quarters times the light of Regulus.

This instrument will be of use, not only in astronomy, but in meteorology also. The amount of light which reaches the earth varies according to the state of the atmosphere. The inventor claims that in this way forecasts of weather can be obtained which will be far more accurate than those obtained at present.—Exchange.

Military Telegraphers to Meet.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 9.—The sixteenth annual reunion of the Military Telegraph corps and the Old-Time Telegraphers' association, which commences here to-day, to continue for three days, promises to be one of the largest and most enjoyable of any in the history of these organizations. Fully 500 delegates have notified the local committee of their coming.

Payne's Condition Critical.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 9.—Ex-Senator Payne, who was stricken with paralysis Wednesday, is said to be resting more comfortably, but his condition is still very critical. On account of his advanced age—80 years—the physicians have very little hope for the recovery of the patient.

To Repeal Special Verdict Law.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 9.—The Bar association met Tuesday and appointed a committee to draft a bill repealing the special verdict law, which has been in operation in this state for several years and which they claim has proved to be a means of much injustice. The law, it is asserted, has been a boon to the corporations in damage and other suits in the state courts.

British Government Is Lenient.

London, Sept. 9.—The government has decided that those of Jameson's officers who were acquitted on their trial for participation in the Transvaal raid shall return to their regiments, while those who were sentenced must retire with ordinary privileges.

Brazilian Statesman Wounded.

Rio Janeiro, Sept. 9.—Dr. Carvalho, late minister of foreign affairs, was seriously wounded by a deputy in the presence of President Moraes in the central railway station. Three shots were fired, all taking effect in the victim's breast.

His Definition.

His Honor—"You are charged with knocking a man down and taking his watch. What have you to say?" Raggles—"Self-defense, yer honor. Yer see, 'twas dis way—I wuz t'reated wid der pneumonia an' a gentleman friend uv mine wot works in a horse-pittle told me dat if I didn't take some-thin' purty soon I'd croak. See?"—Judge.

The Snake Ran Away, Fortunately.

Herman Hofford and Edward Ulrich, Wyandot county, Ohio, men, assert that they saw a snake at least sixty feet long. Fortunately it ran away from them, for there is no telling what might have happened if it hadn't, as it upset a fence or two in its flight.
